Nestlets

Plant nest in comfortable and highly absorbent short cotton fibres, product free from chemical treatment

Rodents are highly motivated to process the Nestlet to achieve a cotton ball texture that other natural products do not provide.

Processing provides animals with natural enrichment material to produce a comfortable nest-like environment, ideal for raising young.

Short cotton fibers do not endanger rodents that are at risk with long-fiber products. Shorter fibers and the absence of long strands mean that the Nestlet does not wrap around limbs.

The bright white color of the product helps in observing animal discharges.
